

The United Soviet States of America

From capitalism to Communism, through the intermediary state of Socialism; that is the way American society, like society in general, is headed.

—Toward Soviet America by William Z. Foster,

National Chairman of the Communist Party of the United States of America, 1932

Some call William Z. Foster's book, Toward Soviet America, a rant from an unhinged Bolshevik. Some call his words nothing other than propaganda from the Soviet Union.

Foster's work was, no doubt, propaganda from the Soviet Union, which, in last week's column, was shown to have been created and sustained by Western bankers and industrialists. Therefore, Foster's writings also represent the propaganda and predictions of the world's true slavers: international elites.

Unwittingly or not, Foster provided a glimpse into the future of the United States, a future which began to unfold immediately after Franklin Delano Roosevelt's election and which continued throughout his veritable monarchical rule.

To begin the sovietization process, we had to have the Great Depression, which was rigged by the world bankers. Creating depressions is an age-old bankers' trick dating back to Nathan Rothschild's crashing of Great Britain's stock market before Napoleon's fall at Waterloo.

Next we had to have someone sell the scam. That was FDR, who was selected by the bankers to oversee the sovietization, which, while providing relief, expanded government and increased exponentially its control over the masses.

And understand that there is no difference between soviet and federal.

Check out Webster's New World Dictionary of the American Language, copyright 1970:

Soviet is described as "any of the various governing councils, local, intermediate and national, elected by and representing the people."

Federal is described as "designating or of a union of states, groups, etc. in which each member agrees to subordinate its governmental power to that of the central authority or government in certain specified common affairs."

Interchange these definitions and either fits the U.S.

Consider the following excerpts from Foster's book in italics. (Remember Foster stated this 73 years ago.) My comments follow:

Foster quotes Lenin: "Capitalism, in its imperialist phase, arrives at the threshold of the complete socialization of production. To some extent it caused the capitalist, whether they like it or not, to enter a new social order, which marks the transition from free competition to the socialization of production."

We are heading toward a "new social order," a.k.a. "new world order," a term promoted heavily during Daddy Bush's presidency. Today's talk about "free market" is a lie. It's about the economic integration of all nations so none can fare better than any other.

"The American Soviet government will be joining with the other Soviet governments in a world Soviet Union. There will also be, very probably, some form of continental union."

Hello? "Some form of continental union." What do you think the European Union is about? Or, for that matter, the African Union? Both of which are in their infancy. But do you realize there is a movement afoot in the Western Hemisphere to “economically integrate” all 34 nations into the American Union?

Network news somehow fails to report on that, though C-SPAN recorded it all. If you wish to view those clips contact me at my e-mail address provided below.

“In finance it will mean the nationalization of the banking system and its concentration around a central State bank . . . the setting up of a State monopoly of foreign trade”

We’ve already dealt with this. The Federal Reserve is your “central State bank.” The “State Monopoly of foreign trade” is NAFTA, GATT and FTAA.

“In industry, transport and communications, this will mean the immediate taking over by the State of all large factories, mines and power plants . . . the whole transport services of railroads, waterways, airways, electric car lines, bus lines, etc.; the entire communication organization, including telegraphs, telephones, post office, radio etc.”

In an earlier column, Amerikan Manifesto, we dealt with the ICC, FCC, FAA, DOT; but here’s a few more: Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, the Bureau of Mines, United States Postal Service.

“There will also be the development of the system of social insurance against unemployment, old age, sickness, accidents, etc.”

Social Security was supposed to go away after the Great Depression, but it’s still with us and constitutes another tax, one without any guarantee to pay off for subsequent generations. Privatize your SS contributions through Wall Street, and the bankers will rape your savings once and for all. The money taken from you through your SS deductions were better off in your hands to invest as you will than in the government’s.

And universal health care insurance? That worked out real well.

See, the point here is to corrupt capitalism, to drive the masses to go for complete socialist services. And we are headlong down that path.

“The Soviet government will initiate at once a vast housing program. All houses and other buildings will be socialized.”

The Department of Housing and Urban Development and the Federal Housing Administration, the former is one of the most nefarious governmental slush funds around.

“Among the elementary measures the American Soviet government will adopt to further the cultural revolution are the following; the schools, colleges and universities will be coordinated and grouped under the National Department of Education and its state and local branches. The studies will be revolutionized, being cleansed of religious, patriotic and other features of the bourgeois ideology. The students will be taught on the basis of Marxian dialectical materialism, internationalism and the general ethics of the new Socialist society.”

We got the Department of Education in 1979. Our public education system is heading toward a national curriculum and, in turn, will be assimilated into an international curriculum. Have studies been cleansed of religion and patriotism, the latter replaced by nationalism? Has internationalism replaced the love and respect for national sovereignty?

You figure it out.
